It's simple as hell
It's simple as hell
The rumours have spread These lies in our heads
Our lives they're all dead
With no checkpoints ahead
The lights they went red
The lights they went red

All I ask is that the sun shines, that the sun shines, that we could go outside
All I needed was the best day, was the best day of my life
Could we ever leave the past yeah, leave the past yeah,
leave the past behind
Got me thinking about my future, about my future,
about my future wife

Isn't that what you said
The cool kids wear red
But now everything's red
Now that the cool kids are dead
What else could we dread
That everything's red
That we're trapped in our heads
We're trapped in our beds and losing ambition

All I ask is that the sun shines, that the sun shines, that
we could go outside
Could we ever leave the past yeah, leave the past yeah,
leave the past behind
Got me thinking about my future, about my future,
about my future wife

It's simple as hell
It's simple as hell
Isn't that what you said
Well hell's a pretty complex place

All I ask is that the sun shines, that the sun shines, that
we could go outside
Could we ever leave the past yeah, leave the past yeah,
leave the past behind
Got me thinking about my future, about my future,
about my future wife

Go outside
Of my life
Past behind
Future wife
