Good-bye
i'll be gone when you open your eyes i'm skipping town like a stone thrown across the water gonna set sail

there's no need for you to wave cos i'm catching one on my own now

don't leave a key
underneath the mat for me
cos i won't be coming back around here

i'm not gonna cry
as i'm hopping that train knowing that i won't see you again

taking a plane into the sky i'm not gonna look down and i'm not gonna look back so don't leave a key

coming back around here...
