On and off and
on and off
the light switched places with the shadow
and we lost power

sweet and sour
sweet and sour
turns out "he loves me not"
is the last petal
on the flower

hot and cold and hot and cold
the water drops are falling from the tap
out of synch

open close and open close
I locked the doors
and shut my eyes
but can't make you leave my head

let go slow down you're holding fast let go move on you're holding still close and far and close and far

the details magnified
we lost sight
of the bigger picture

win and lose and
win and lose
the race we ran repeats again
but the record's broken

plus and minus
plus and minus

reciprocals
became mixed fractions
and we divided

happy sad and happy sad
sometimes good things happen to us
disguising themselves
as bad

remember the best
forgive and forget the rest
