Folded my arm through the elbow of yours
but i can't feel you there anymore i am dancing with your shadow you have turned into a ghost though you are so close beside i feel space empty and wide you turned me round in a circle made me dizzy and let me fall i no longer recognize you i want to leave this masquerade ball what lies behind your smile i once believed in foolishly now i look up into your eyes but all i see is the sky
