Standing here
Right in front of me
A Ghost from my memories
It's plain to see, but I don't believe
It's wrong, I know, I know

How can I believe
When all my life it seems
The truth has been always kept from me
Although I do feel strong.

Never will I trust
The lies that they spew
All of my hopes and
Dreams will come true

Some say forever more
But I don't have time at all
Some try to even the score
But I just don't know what for
Some lie when they say goodbye
They'd rather live in denial
Some die to be reborn
But I'd rather not conform

Fate, you see,
Plays a game with me
It tears me up inside
It frightens me, to the core of me
And never lets me go

How can I retrieve
What I thought was meant for me
When all of my life it seems
The truth has kept me strong

Never will I trust
The lies that they spew
All of my hopes and
Dreams will come true

Some say forever more
But I don't have time at all
Some try to even the score
But I just don't know what for
Some lie when they say goodbye
They'd rather live in denial
Some die to be reborn
But I'd rather not conform

Destiny and reality
Manifest eternity
It's plain to see
Right in front of me
Where it was all along

Never will I trust
All of my hopes and
Dreams will come true

Some say
Some try
Some lie
Some die
Some die
