Did you know the past?
Did you know that it holds the key
To the part of your mind
That unlocks your memories?

Future fades too fast
Fades away from you and me
Will we be the last
To find the truth to the greatest mystery?

I know a place just follow me there
And I will show you what lies ahead
A different space out there somewhere
Between the living and the dead

The Best Is Yet To Come
Our work has just begun
The road that lies ahead
Will lead to brighter days
Don't be afraid to try
I know you're wondering why
But in the end you'll see
And you will believe
Some things just have to be

In the final dance
Will you take a chance with me?
Call it happenstance
Call it out destiny

The Best Is Yet To Come
Our work has just begun
The road that lies ahead
Will lead to brighter days
Don't be afraid to try
I know you're wondering why
But in the end you'll see
And you will believe

The final moments have begun
OUR world is waking up

We take the steps to build upon
It's time for the world to see

Let's take a chance before it's gone
And tear the castles down
We'll chase them all out on the run
And set our spirits free
