I know the games they play
But it's not for me to say
They take the dreams away
And only the scars remain
I'll go another way
Avoid the light of day
And take a chance
That will lead me back home once again

It all comes down to this
We must all coexist

Welcome My Friend Of Mysery
It's been so lons since we set on...
... Our journey through eternity
And all of the worlds we left behind
Time has been kind to you and me
No matter what comes we must carry on
Flying on wings of destiny
Through infinity and what lies beyond

A tempting melody beckons invitingly
Draws me closer to the force
That keeps me Earthbound
Our past is swept away
Vanished into thin air
They trapped us once again
Now we take yet another futile spin

It all comes down to this
We must all coexist

Welcome My Friend Of Mysery
It's been so lons since we set on...
... Our journey through eternity
And all of the worlds we left behind
Time has been kind to you and me
No matter what comes we must carry on
Flying on wings of destiny
Through infinity and what lies beyond

Just hold my hand
And don't ever let go
Follow me to the other side
Where so few go
