This life once held a place so safe and sound - My Sanctuary
How so fearlessly you reached into the heart of me - No
Promises made

I have died in you - Crossed the line for you
With each new death with every breath I took for you
In the fire for you
I have cried for you - Been denied by you
I have often wished that your cruel kiss would take me
To
The fire for you

How so helplessly, hypnotised by loves sweet dream -
Torn into pieces
How so carelessly, we twist and turn the perfect dream
- No promises made

I have died in you - Crossed the line for you
With each new death with every breath I took for you
In the fire for you
I have cried for you - Been denied by you
I have often wished that your cruel kiss would take me
To
The fire for you

If you are everything I can never be - All the things I
Want but not the things I need
It won't ever stop though - I'd do it again
The source of the pain, day after day - but remember I
Told you to be careful
No promises made - It won't ever stop no, no promises
Made

In the fire for you
Cross the line for you
In the fire for you

I have run from you, to the fire for you, I have often
Been the lonely road that leads to you - What I
Wouldn't do

The source of the pain, day after day - but remember I
Told you to be careful
No promises made

I have died in you - Crossed the line for you
With each new death with every breath I took for you -
What I wouldn't do
I have cried for you - Been denied by you
I have often wished that your cruel kiss would take me
To
The fire for you

If you are everything I can never be - All the things I
Want but nothing that I need
It won't ever stop no, no promises made

I have died in you - Crossed the line for you
With each new death with every breath I took for you -
What I wouldn't do
I have cried for you - Been denied by you
I have often wished that your cruel kiss would take me
To
The fire for you
