This night
I am dreaming
Searching for you
I have a message
But you're not sleeping
I waded through the deep black waters
Endless deserts
Turning my eyes away
From the criminals who seek to shame me

Meet me at the crossroads
Where we will come together
And nothing else will matter
From now until forever

These things
The only way I know to tell you
Whispered in the static

Screaming through the veil
Please say
The message came through
As intended
Code deciphered and received

Meet me at the crossroads
Where will come together
And nothing else will matter
From now until forever

Code deciphered
Message received

Meet me at the crossroads
Where will come together
And nothing else will matter
From now until forever
