[Talking]

Hey, do you remember when Matt Hinkle started it all Dayton family 1990, invested the first g's to ever let us hit the studio...

Fo'get it, let me just ask you these questions, check it...

Do you remember the clique was breaking you off back in December

Surrender, you rappers aint got no skills, you just pretenders

We heartless, we takin you out the game and that's regardless

Them partners, they fuckin' it up again and plus they fault us

Remember, the niggas that reppin the ave they drop them ???s

Or fold those, we spendin them dates instead of them mo mos

We tiptoes, do you remember the way that we ripped those, like .4-4's

We breakin it down so fuck you hoes

Do you remember Shoestring, but fuckin it up caught as the ???

Remember... you rappers be runnin your mouths, but you all beginners

Quit actin, you bitches been suckin my dick but now you packin and jackin

Fuckin around with us, you hoes subtractin

Remember when dope was whoopin yo ass from start to ending

Stop bending, we bustin you up again yo head we sending

Keep walkin, we done check yo nuts before but you still talkin and stalkin

Quit suckin up on my dick bitch, you aint ???

I said it, I'm chasin you up and out and down you headed, get leaded

Fuckin around with Dayton bitch I'll go get it

Remember the honkies that finish you off just like a fender

You tender, stickin you in yo neck cause our agenda,

you leakin
robbin you for yo shit, you know we creepin, you peekin Checkin us up and down cause we some heathens Bootzilla, blastin on these bitches, we some killas
From the Dorseys to the Millers...

[Chorus]

Do you remember when the days were short and the nights were long
Do you remember holdin' on even though your daddy
was gone
Do you remember when mama was mama and daddy
in one (Do you remember) Time moves on, but it's too late for some

Now it begun in 1991, Dayton Family tape out ??? dropped that cap and saved a home for fools with no ???
I remember rappin under these streetlights when shit was cool
Or battle rappin in the hallways of a fellow middle school
It wasn't polite to do cocaine in public if you was cute and pretty Once when my mind dropped and that shit stopped, fucked up the whole city Do you remember the days and nights when you were broke and lonely No money, everyone inside your household was hungry, ???
I remember my neighbor was telling me to watch my mouth
Our lights was out, we runnin extension cords from house to house
And fuck some cable, we had barely drug in a dining room table
Hella hot main-meals, chicken pot pies Remember runnin with gang bangers and fuckin up tramp-ass-hoes Mama I aint goin to school today wearin these same old clothes
Do you remember the look in her eye when she made you a meal and you didn't eat it, and all them tears she shed beside your bed over things that you needed I still remember the way that I felt when I picked up a gun
I still remember the tears that I shed when my cousin was blasted with one Do you remember the way that you felt when you walked out of prison Or do you remember the pain that you felt from them sendin you back for no reason [beat stops]

I still remember the way that the ball bounce insufficient bank accounts Guns and triggas is all that counts
I'm robbin you bitches for different amounts I'm losin myself and I can't be found The niggas out now are still firing rounds Stuck on the ground, my son's outta town September eleventh has swallowed me now [beat returns]

[Chorus X2]

Do you remember when the days were short and the
nights were long
Do you remember holdin' on even though your daddy
was gone
Do you remember when mama was mama and daddy
in one
(Do you remember) Time moves on, but it's too late for

Do you remember when niggas was sellin rocks on yo block
Do you remember weed and dopers whether you like us or not Do you remember when back was breakin you off with the goods
Do you remember rollin the caravan with all of that wood
Do you remember...
