one more day down
everybody has those days where one soft sweet song's just enough to clear my head fall on real life is anybody left there sane?

if we slide on over and accept fate then it's bound to be a powerful thing if it's just that you're weak we can talk about it

its gettin so damn creepy
just nursing this ghost of a chance
the fiction, the romance
and the Technicolour dreams
of black and white people one boy head strong thinks that living here's just plain he's pushed down so hard you can start to hear him sink and it's one round of petty conversation you hold on boy cos you won't go down like this lay down till it's more than you can take so one more day down and everybody's changin one more head down just enough to reach my head yeah if you're weak can we talk about it

We are black and white people
