You've had your fair share of shit
I know it's been tough and I know it's been hard
There is no time to think
You're waving and waving but no one's around
Retrace your steps and your thoughts
You've repeated the lies, now it's your only truth
Drop what is in your hands
And the master of fate will come to an end

Can you feel the pain?
Can you recognize the pain?
Without the pain
It's still too much to handle

The wheel is in motion
The world is spinning but you're not there
The weight of your head
It is pulling you down and there's nothing to grab
There are things that you need to know
Repeat your mistakes and you might not get up
If this is going too far
There's no way out, you'll be kept in chains

Can you feel the pain?
Can you recognize the pain?
Without the pain
It's still too much to handle
Can you feel the pain? It's eating your head
Can you recognize the pain?
Ignore the pain
You have enough to bear

Running and running without a goal
It's just an illusion, it's not real, it's a hoax
I can't show the way
You are looking for something that I cannot control
It is falling apart
Their house of cards is going down
Whatever you feel now
I know, it's more real than ever before

Can you feel the pain?
Can you recognize the pain?
Without the pain
It's still too much to handle
Can you feel the pain? It's eating your head
Can you recognize the pain?
Ignore the pain
There's nothing left to be said now
