This all was just a game
I created to escape
I never knew I played it wrong from the start
Towards the last part of beats
I pulled a card I could not read
I saw the ground drop down and burst before my eyes

What would I become without the trust?
At the top of the hill
Time flies
Life runs by

What would I become?
Life runs by

After all the roads I've crossed
I'm headed up there again
I'm over the feeling saying "this I have to hide"
I crack my concrete head
I put the shade among the rest
It's time to show the face you never thought I had

What would I become
Without the trust?
At the top of the hill
Time flies
Life runs by

What would I become?
Life runs by

I know what needs to be done
Defeat my fears
I know what needs to be done
Defeat the fear
