"A Minima"

You stole their lives, abruptly and coldly
Like them, give me the shivers
It's not anger, it's not that I care
You're a part of mine, that's the rule of the game

So I take my time, and I know you understand
A minima, you and me that's the same

Untamable and lacerating
Gently I come in you, we're gonna fuck again

Taste me - It's time for revenge
It looks like you're afraid
I'm gonna give everything I have
To be in peace again

So I observe you respectfully
Slipping on your surface without any noise
Wounds burnt by salt and heart by your soul
Trying to master me, reinforcing my goal

Attaching to my heels the wings of audacity
Never considering this like a closed session
Taking this ride at my own risk
Waiting for the saving ondulation

Fight with the sea
Face the breakers
Ride their tip as a king would see fit
Do you see me Sir London?
Cause the next one is the last hit
