"Over Time"

From the start
Life seems to be so hard
To comprehend.

Don't give up.
There is no need to stop.
It's not the end.
(It's not the end, you'll see)

How do you feel when all the things keep going out of your control?
Don't let the fear of loneliness begin to burn inside your soul.

Let it go out through the hurt and the pain.
Everything will take it's course once again.
Black line will change to the white one – I know.
Be what you are. It's the way
That you need to go
Over time.

Everywhere
There's so much to beware.
Don't close your eyes.

Every step
May lead you to the trap
Of soothing lies.
(Of soothing lies, I know)

Do you believe in destiny and something in the sky above?
Someday the things you hate the most will turn to ones
you're gonna love.
