

A Quarter At A Time by Chris Ledoux

"Getting By A Quarter At A Time"

Visit "Getting By A Quarter At A Time" on MotoLyrics.com

She's not a kid anymore she can hide her age in these dim lights Waitin' tables in this bar ain't what she's lookin' for The short years fly by but oh the long long nights
A bar tends to make a woman hard Read a story in the lines beneath her eyes
As tips hit the table they jingle and they jangle Get her by a quarter at a time She's getting by a quarter at a time a diamond in the rough has lost her shine Slingin' drinks at least will pay the rent again get her by a quarter at a time

Another man stands up to leave she's always been left behind
The change she's waitin' for keeps walkin' out the door But her quarters are sliver lined she's danced to everybody's tune
But gettin' stepped on don't make her cry
But after work the jukebox brings a little tear drop
The memories cost a quarter at a time She's getting by a quarter...

Visit A Quarter At A Time by Chris Ledoux page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.