

The Church

"The Night Is Very Soft"

Visit "The Night Is Very Soft" on MotoLyrics.com

Tiny drops of water glistened on her black fur Taillights in earshot, headlights shine through her and on

Legs crossed on the red surge settee
I sat next to nothing and she looked right through me and on

Inside the car sat a sulky blonde
And on her lap the road went on and on
As she dresses I look to the ground
Perhaps, I know where the place can be found, and on

Outside, the night is very soft, but where does it end We'd pile into the Buick, but you've got to have money for that

92 people taking it too fast
They never noticed where their lines are cast and on Legs crossed on the red surge settee
Sat next to nothing and she looked right past me and
on

I've got a milk white electric guitar
Walked in the shop and I peeled off the notes, oh yeah
As she dresses I look to the ground
Perhaps, I know where the place can be found and on

Visit The Church page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.