"Apathy"

Oh apathy, don't patronize me
I wasn't staring at nothing for nothing

Oh apathy, don't hypnotize me
Once upon a time I thought I really stood for something Something much greater than my love

If I just took the time to stop all of my talking Maybe I'd remember what it was, what it was, what it was

Wake me up, I dare not sleep another hour
I'm waiting for the mission bell
My greatest fear is that I'll wait for you forever
And still I'll never hear the sound, hear the sound
I can't let that happen now

[Release]

The starry night is nothing like what I expected
Can't let it get under my skin
This is not the dream I long ago imagined
Then again nothing ever is, ever is, ever is
