This is the first time dreaming in these hues
Everthing I see is new to me
Oh my darling
This is the first look
From this lofty height
Everything is shimmering bright
Darling tonight

And you came
Just in time
Just in time
To save this heart from black and white
And you came
Just in time
Just in time
To save this heart from black and white

These are the first hands to tremble in my hold

To brush my cheek and take me back again
Oh my darling
These are the first eyes to see beyond the blue
To make me calm and peaceful when I wake
My darling, my darling, it's you
Oh my darling it's you
Oh my darling it's you

And you came
Just in time
Just in time
To save this heart from black and white
And you came
Just in time
Just in time
To save this heart from black and white
