

Elizabeth South"Superstar"

Visit "Superstar" on MotoLyrics.com

You say you always feel like you're in the dark
That you feel alone, don't know where to start
You say you always feel like you're lost at sea
With no light to guide where you're meant to be

You say you always feel you're not good enough
Seems everyone else has all the luck
Don't need your name in lights to know what you're worth
Let the light shine in you until it bursts

Don't be just like all the rest
Just stand out and shout it out

Don't have to be a superstar
To show the world just who you are
You only have to be just you
Just believe in what is true
Don't have to be a superstar
Not the size of fame, but the size of your heart
To let the world know it is true
You only have to be, you only have to be just you

You feel like no one sees you when you're in a crowd
That you could disappear and not be found
Just look at all the good that you've already done
The journey that you're on has just begun
Be the best at what you were made to be
If you can dare to dream, you can do anything
There's no limitations to what you can do
Except for what you think, you know it's not true

Don't be just like all the rest
Just stand out and shout it out

Don't have to be a superstar
To show the world just who you are
You only have to be just you
Just believe in what is true
Don't have to be a superstar
Not the size of fame, but the size of your heart

To let the world know it is true
You only have to be, you only have to be just you

A star, star, star is who you are
A star, star, star, will take you far

Don't have to be a superstar
To show the world just who you are
You only have to be just you
Just believe in what is true
Don't have to be a superstar
Not the size of fame, but the size of your heart
To let the world know it is true
You only have to be, you only have to be just you

A star, star, star is who you are
A star, star, star, will take you far [x2]

Visit Elizabeth South page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.