It doesn't really matter Boy/where we are/in the car or
Or in the rain/when I'm with you/you
Could be all alone or with my friends
Walking and a talking I'm still with you/you

If you lost your way/I wouldn't stray
You would find me here beside you
Where I belong
If you lost your way/Everything you owned
You'd still have me

This is the real thing/this is the real life
This loving that I feel
Comes from the inside
It's not the other way
No matter what they say
No matter what you do
You know I'm loving you
From the inside out/inside out

However many years been searching for
Open doors that close again/when I needed you/you
Never really knew how much to give/how to live
And if for real/you needed me/me

If you left this world/and I was alone
I would know for sure that I had given my all
If you left this world/everything you had
I'd know for sure

This is the real thing/this is the real life
This loving that I feel/comes from the inside
It's not the other way/no matter what they say
No matter what you do/you know I'm loving you
From the inside out/inside out

I'll path my way from the inside
I'll find my way from the inside
Some come with a plan from the outside
But I'll find my way from the inside
From the inside out, from the inside out
