Why the fighting why the hurting
We could live as one
Don't you see, are you with me?
Why the fighting/why the hurting
We could live as one
Come again, I know you're with me

Watching the world
Spinning on a screen
Nothing in this life
Is ever what it seems

Searching for a higher Vibration
Tuning into entire nations
There's too many sad situations
Come on you know that we could make it right
Searching for a higher Vibration
Tuning into entire nations
There's too many sad situations
Get up you know that we could make it right

Why the fighting why the hurting
We could live as one
Don't you see, are you with me?
Why the fighting/why the hurting
We could live as one
Come again, I know you're with me

Walking the line
Between right and wrong
All I wanna do is just sing my song

Searching for a higher Vibration
Tuning into entire nations
There's too many sad situations
Come on you know that we could make it right

Searching for a higher Vibration
Tuning into entire nations
There's too many sad situations
Get up you know that we could make it right

Living in western society's negativity/ideology
People seem to be so lazy/virtual reality/pure hegemony
Dire fallacy/in totality man's bad as a can be
So sad even charities breed profit and thief
Weed's banned but the land allows nicotine freely
MPs are seedy/beedy eyes shut down
Where corrupt ducking and diving makes them a pound

Break it down, yeah

It's the little things that hold you back
You can't see them but they are there
Getting in the way of what you do
No one can see what you're trying to do
