"Open Your Eyes"

It didn't have to happen this way, with the words you say a thousand times I can forgive you, but I wont forget you. Our hearts beat to the same design.
Open your eyes to see angels wings before you. They will never let you fall.
It always seems to happen this way; you can try your best to shut your eyes But this night is far from over and if I had another chance to do this all again, I would have never let you go. Hold you close to keep you warm. I will catch you. don't worry. I wont let you fall from grace
