So many things I'd like to do
So many dreams yet to come true
So many wasted hours on my tail
So many broken promises
So many lies and sweet regrets precious moments that went down the drain but there's no time to loose no need for bad excuses now the clock is ticking all those days are flicking by somehow and I'm still stranded but time awaits for no one time just keeps on going time awaits for no one time just keeps on rolling by so many people that I've hurted so many visions I've deserted all those stupid things I've said and done and so much love I did not give so much life I never lived and one to many yesterdays have gone I can't reset to zero Can't rewind as years go by I can't defect from All the bad reflections of my life

So here I'm standing
CHORUS
Can't beat the clock
Race against time
It goes on eternally
It never stops
Runs out of line
Oh no
