"Within The Cry Of Loneliness"

Drowned in your eyes
Dark fireflies...
I can feel your fears...
Sombre oak-woods
Fill me with your fears
Within the cry
Of solitude...
Twilight Ensemble
Tempted is my soul
Seduced my fading mind...

When night appears
Rain drops it's tears
And gloomy trees
In deep shadow sink
He sings lone ode
To the one who cries
To the one who holds
Rain clouded crying skies

Every early autumn, he is alone, all by himself in Threatening woods.

Drowned in your eyes
Sombre oak-woods
Fill me with your tears
I can feel your fears...
Of solitude...
Twilight Ensemble

But when night appears
There is no one here
Nobody cares
And nobody hears
His tender grief
To the one who wipes
Dropping tears
From gloomy clouded skies...

And still away, he is a stranger
Amongst deserted cheerless moors

And he can't help to be a feigner
He lies himself; he hides within the truth

When night appears
Rain drops it's tears
And gloomy trees
In shadow sink

The bitter taste of loneliness
Is the only sense was left in him
Astounded with the nature loveliness
He only wishes his life - a dream...
But when night appears
There's no one here
Nobody cares
And nobody hears

Lonesome woods are at a standstill; soon they'll become Gold...
But still one can hear bird's trills; soon they will Be gone...
