When we notice.
We've taken all.
To the point where we must go.
I know this.
That this is right.
But i can not let him be yours.
And after all i've done it seems that you're ok.
You close it up you board it off and i can't stay.
Now you find out.
I'm not the only one.
Who cares for you.
So you run.
Have the time of your life.
I won't drag you down.
And after all i've done it seems that you're ok.
You close it up you board it off and i can't stay.
And after all i've done this time.
I can't fix this.
You must be done with modest times.
I can't fix this.
