Where are you now? it seems so far away. even though you're right next to me. I guess this is just one of those times. I wished I had courage. but you're just too much.
and too good for me. your smile is changing everything. with nothing to lose if I just talked to you. I'd tell you you're beautiful. I don't mind. I don't mind. chasing you. lost my mind. the first time. I saw you. what would you say. if I went up to you. and asked you to come along with me. we could just drive. drive far away from all that is going wrong here.
