Open your eyes
Eyes are blind to the world around you, Now see Eyes are blind to the world around you, You will see Look beyond the lies they're preaching what a wicked web they weave Breathe in new life; realization
We must ascend understanding Your senses will deceive you, all that is truth is under siege.
Breathe in new life; realization
We're only here for a second's time (Light of this world expired take hold of what's left while you still can, there is nothing here that can't be taken)
Now see, eyes are blind to the world around you You, you will see, eyes are blind to the world around you Broken, we lay with shattered thoughts, and second glances are worse than seconds lost, no second chances.
