"In Your Wake"

Morning light came crawling
Yet shadows remained
Sunken hopes had dimmed the room

Fears became a promise
You left a scar
On my skin I found you

Found you
I found you
On my skin I found you
Holding on to the dawn

Softly so you whisper
Once again
I thought I had prepared for this
Daftly so I follow
As you lead
I keep hoping to relive that one moment

"Years can be wasted
If you're too afraid of failure
Trying is not a waste of time
Not trying is"

Close your eyes, take a step, freefall, release your grip
Take a step further, release your grip, let it go
Time keeps passing by
Take a step further
Take a step further, release your grip, let it go
