To hell with failure, to hell with fighting for their dreams
Frozen minds, but your spirits free
Me met to let lips kiss, we fight to hope they bleed
Man to myth, myth to man and the legend bleeds
To wonder

Hello frantic frauds of verse, hang on to your lies
Commanding ladies place your body close to mine
You know why and I know why you'll give me time
A sets of records played our juke box lives away

Take it, I promise I'll come back the same
To wonder, Jell-O sear beneath my skin
Anger scars my face
I'm an infant but I'm telling you I need you to talk to

Who didn't know that it could go this far?
Who don't feel right, who's got a break in their hearts?
Who didn't know that it could go this far?

Hello frantic frauds of verse, hang on to your lies
I'm an infant but I'm telling you I need you to talk

Who didn't know that it could go this far?
Who don't feel right, who's got a break in their hearts?
Who didn't know that there are
There are no fair fights but no fair fights
No fair fights, no fair fights before your death

I didn't know that it could go this far
I don't feel right, I got a crack in my heart
I didn't know that it could go
I didn't know that it could go

I didn't know that it could go this far
I don't feel right, I got a crack in my heart
I didn't know that it could go, yeah, yeah
I didn't know
