I've been locked in here for days
Trying to make my way
Trying to see what I've become and
Nothing's making sense
All around just seems so tense
And I don't know what I'm waiting for

As I get up off the floor as I've done
So many time before
I realize that there's more to this
Been hidden deep inside in a place
I can't describe
I wanna see I wanna be more

What am I supposed to do
Always surrounded by the likes of you
What am I supposed to do
Always surrounded by the like of you

Now the key is right in front of me
Try to reach just to set free
Turn the clock and I'm breaking
Out of here

Hope my courage doesn't fail me
Hope my past don't trail me
Just wanna see wanna be more

What am I supposed to do
Always surrounded by the likes of you
What am I supposed to do
Always surrounded by the like of you
