All I thought I'd be
All I thought I'd find
Staring back at me
Am I blind.

It's like it isn't there
It's like it never was.

I'm right in the middle between
What I thought was real.
Step back take a look at myself
To reveal.

It's just what I've become
Can't believe that it's come to this
It's just what I've become
Can't believe that it's come to this
And it's a shame, it's a damn shame.

Insides looking out
Outsides calling in
Struggling to see when you don't Know where you've been
Wish I could have seen it
Seen it all before.

I'm right in the middle between
What I thought was real.
Step back take a look at myself
To reveal.

It's just what I've become
Can't believe that it's come to this
It's just what I've become
Can't believe that it's come to this

Try to see a different side of me
Try to redefine it all.
Try see what I must do
To break my fall.

It's just what I've become

Can't believe that it's come to this
It's just what I've become
Can't believe that it's come to this

I've become my worst enemy.
My worst enemy is me.
