Watching you go is the worst part
Saying goodbye is the hardest phrase
Knowing that this is the very end
I can't avoid it, and I can't pretend
This is the way that it has to be
And please realise, it's not easy for me
The feelings that I try to hide
They're killing me from the inside

Cause I've known you since the start
And I never thought we'd be apart
But I suppose there's nothing I can do
But remember the times with you

Walks in the park
And hugs in the dark
I'd hold you when I was scared
You'd always wait for me
I always knew you'd be
There when no one else cared

And now my life's incomplete
And you are the missing puzzle piece

Hold back the tears I feel alone
Never got that chance to say goodbye
Thinking what tomorrow is going to hold
What kind of events are going to unfold

Cause I knew from the start
And I never thought we'd be apart
But I guess there's nothing I can do
But remember the times with you,
I remember

Walks in the park
And hugs in the dark
I'd hold you when I was scared
You'd always wait for me
I always knew you'd be
There when no one else cared

And now my life's incomplete
And you are the missing...

What is the point of life?
When every day causes strife
What is the point of living?
When your loved ones are missing
How do I keep, moving on?
When everything feels wrong
How in this world am I meant to go on
When I feel that I don't belong?

I remember
Walks in the park
And hugs in the dark
I'd hold you when I was scared
You'd always wait for me
I always knew you'd be
There when no one else cared

And now my life's incomplete
And you are the missing piece

Walks in the park
And hugs in the dark
When I was scared
You'd always wait for me
I always knew you'd be
There when no one cared

And now my life's incomplete
And you are the missing puzzle piece
The missing piece
The missing piece
