Lost track of time
No signs of life
Nothing changed in your cage
Too many lies
You roll the dice
A piece of meat your sugar for the streets

And once again
You pretend that you don't care
When the truth is that you're

Hanging on with every breath you take
In every smile you fake
Because everybody's watching you
Keep your cool don't break
You can't get away, your life is on display
And everybody's watching you
So keep your cool don't break

Here it comes
It's on your mind
Like a heart attack of the sweetest kind
There it goes
It's in your veins
Silver soul, Phantom brain
Once again you pretend that you don't care
