(Tupac talking) (Are you scared to die?) Is reincarnation (Are you afraid to die?) Reach the whole nation Me murderer? My only fear of death is reincarnation Uh (Chorus x2: Tupac) My only fear of death, is reincarnation I use my last breath, to reach the whole Nation How can they call me murderer for my spoken words? This composition be my prophecy I hope its heard (Verse One: Tupac) Hard words is spoken, many promises broken as if it's Useless to hope, they got me constantly smoking My role model was a cold bottle, of O.E. Surrounded by my closest homies but nobody knows me I pray to God it ain't easy half the cops in California got a hard on to squeeze me Running through the backstreets, hopping over fences trying to shake the fucking K-9s, run around senseless I'll probably be a mystery to many, but a legend to some I've been a man for many women, but a husband for none In case you see me out in traffic, looking nervous and high My hands, holding my pistols will they serve us or die? May God forgive me for my crooked ways, I didn't mean it Knew I'd fall in love with money the first day that I seen it? Maybe now they can understand, my occupation It's clear that my only fear of death is reincarnation (Chorus x2: Tupac) (Verse Two: Hussein Fatal) I keep my heater on safety I've been shooting rock's lately Everybody dies, they nickel plates don't penetrate me I was suppose to be the murder first to go Them niggas missed and raised my blicks and now it's personal They done told me that I was slipping got his strap and started tripping Slipped two clips on the table twist an L and said "Fatal listen" Everybody don't be missing keep your vest on baby And you know that shit can happen cause the Teflon crazy You ain't gotta pack a gat I got your back just keep the frontline Or you can solve that, go grab the Gat and get to gun shot Be we locked down, don't have your back in the county All he thought about was plastics and murdering bastards (Chorus)
