"Show me from an 11-year olds' stand point, what is life?"

"You don't wanna be here! Y-You don't wanna be here!"

Words from the B-side

(See through the eyes of another)

You're high on a wind wave that

One way down, one way down

(See through the eyes of another)

(See through the eyes of another)

(See through the eyes of another)

Don't know Jack, don't know Jack

Shit about what it means

You're all beat down like a dog on a leash

But are never in reach

Chasing things that don't move

Sit down, lose your mind 'till it thinks right

Someday your skin turns blue

(See through the eyes of another)

"Who are you? Who are you?"

(See through the eyes of another)

When will you realize

(The nigger you hate is your brother)

One way down, one way down

(See through the eyes of another)

Surprised that I talk like that

(See through the eyes of another)

(See through the eyes of another)

You ain't seen Jack, you ain't seen Jack

I'm all fucked up and it's easy to see

Look what's happened to me

What you mean

Turned three hundred and sixty degrees

Skin rack, blow your mind up it sets right

Sometimes your skin turns blue

(See through the eyes of another)

"He who has lived without honor must die without honor."

"Who are you? Who are you?"

(See through the eyes of another)

"From this day forth, let no man call me white!"

(guitar solo)

(You break the chains or you'll smother)

I'm not gonna theorize

One way down, one way down

(See through the eyes of another)

(See through the eyes of another)

It's a sign of a self-made man

It all comes back, it all comes back

(See through the eyes of another)

You can't get up with your knees on the ground

Look who's always so down

Looking 'round

Trying hard for an easy way out

That's right, hold your breath if you like

But don't cry when your skin turns blue

(deep voice babbling)

(See through the eyes of another)

"Who are-Who are you?"

(See through the eyes of another)

"Wh-Wh-Wh-Who are you?"

(See through the eyes of another)

(See through the eyes of another)

"Sounds like..."

"I don't want no one to get hit by a bullet that wasn't meant for me!"
