Bury your words and don't lose focus,
While I waste away in the back of your mind.
Now we're in the darkest hour.
We'll find the strength to leave this all behind.
Hopeless thoughts take the floor.
I'm sick of wondering if I'm gonna lose it all.

I don't want to let you go.
I don't want to let you go.

In my nightmares, I go hungry
Trying to live off all that's destroyed me.
While the burden weights on the innocent...
Destruction comes with one final kiss.

I'll burn it down, anything that's left.
I'll burn it all, anything that's left.

... Again and again, as we try to hide tonight, just say goodbye.

Close your eyes.
As breathing gets us by, we survive.
