Mechanical wires and hidden desires
Gets you so tired, realise you've been fired
Your ambition, your position is lost
You're the hostage working for the new age
The force of unthinkers, the system dog
The concrete line, the sex-drive unit
The trenches of agony, yeah

You're just an animal with no way out
You're getting restless everyday

Population, extermination
The disease to expire, it's a desperate fix
The damaged are screened
By a steel machine
They just hook you into the chair
But don't you worry 'bout the sweat on your brow
You're dangerous now, you can't get a job
The panic crunch-you just better run
You're marked, you're a target, a victim

You're getting restless
You're getting restless everyday
