"Dark Deception"

Every time we have this conversation
You build me up just to tear me down
Clearly it's a problem with your conscience
While I'm the one who's left on zero ground
Oh, dark deception

Baby, it's not easy being humble
You're out to fool the world one more time
We must seem like the outlaw and the actor
Spellbound while the other steals your lines
Oh, dark deception

Angels have spread their wings before you
I've seen their trace descend into your eyes
Weighed your future's outcome with misfortune
No longer can I stand behind your lies
Oh, dark deception
