It's so cold when north winds blow bringing hail and pearls of frost That's the way that you do chill me to the bone

Fear the dark when the moon hides
All its beams behind the clouds That's the way I fear when you are not around

This could be hell , this could be heaven It could be both it could be neither but my heart longs to surrender not to starve again bitter in my chest could it be?

Could it be that I am burning in the flames of love ?
I am burning in the flames of love
Oh i am burning Oh I burn in the flame of love
But that's the way that you do chill me to the bone
But that's the way that you do chill me to the bone
Ah ah ...
