(Verse 1)

Baby-girl I'm thinking about you, every tick that the hands go by Even on this Valentine I know that you will always be mine
Don't need no date on a calendar, you bring that heat one caliber
Sweeter than bubble gum kiss, candy rain drops, I'm mad for her
Dangerous, I'd never miss a chance to see you love You're worth my time, even though I know my time won't be enough
I'd take your hand right into my mines, make a shape two hearts combined Write each letter a thousand times when it's love I'd underline
Send it from my lips right through a message
My breath escapes when I'm in your presence.
Colors everywhere made life a blessing
Love's been built through growth investment...
Attached and trapped the web you spun...
Play each chord, my heart's been strummed...
I feel like I'm stunned which makes me know that you're the one
Happy Valentine, everyday I'm gonna let cha Know baby-boo, that you're truly someone special
A miracle, a gift, my eyes are always focused
A box full of a mysteries like magic, hocus pocus

(Verse 2)

Valentines day is just everyday, made for you about 25/8
Days of the week, that we create
A shooting star that no one can aim...
Touch or fill that empty space
As you walk through heaven's gate...
My guardian angel to pick me up when I make mistakes
It's not a piece of cake, but every time I take a slice Makes me live a dream, see the wonders, knowing this is life
I know your scared thinking that this is only once a year

See it through my soul I'll never let go, forever you are dear
I'd fight to ends of earth, so when you see me off to war
I'd bring you the sands of time, as I walk the Jersey Shore
I'd sketch the skies, purple with a little blue Maybe with a touch red since baby I do bleed for you
Happy Valentine, everyday I'm gonna let cha
Know baby-boo, that you're truly someone special
A miracle, a gift, my eyes are always focused You're the rhythm in my beat, metronome never broken
