There is a major and a minor to the key I'm singing, And all that I can say is that a time will come it will be fun and we'll be singing oh everyday

I met her in the here and now of last October, oh my timing was great, and then I left her in the pouring rain and she got bitter, I just couldn't relate, It's top of the line yeah yeah yeah

Cause there are times when all the world is a newborn baby that's a girl and I know what she wants What she wants.

Sometimes I get to thinking how we lost our loving, I couldn't believe Sometimes I dwell on things I shouldn't dwell on baby They tell me it's a disease. But I don't believe No. no. no.

Cause there are times when all the world is a newborn baby that's a girl good and bad become a blur, And we're all wrapped up inside the swirl, to be alive is just not to try Is to realize What she wants, what she wants, what she wants, what she wants, what she wants, what she wants.

Let's pass the time in this world that's a newborn baby thats a girl the good and bad becomes a blur and we're all wrapped up inside the swirl to be alive is to just not try is to reaalize what she wants, what she wants, what she wants, what she wants, what she wants, what she wants.
