I just took out two men,
Because they knew too much.
Body count's up to ten,
I never planned as such.

Many more people will die,
If this story's not told,
But it may be too late.

When it's over I won't be around,
See the trees as they fall to the ground.
You could say that I warned you of this in the past,
And you hide in the shadows they cast.

I remember the time,
When I first met Lai.
I thought I had it made
The Chemical Warfare Brigade.

And then it happened again,
Too much was never enough.
As it is with everything,
It made us feel strong.

And Amos told me how,
He thought we could triple our buck.
We had to resort to Plan B,
'Cause our first plan had run out of luck.

When it's over I won't be around,
See the trees as they fall to the ground.
You could say that I warned you of this in the past,
And you hide in the shadows they cast.

Oh, the Chemical War Brigade,
Three men tall, expecting it all
Oh, the Chemical War Brigade,
This is there for our future.
(Marc: Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide,
Backs on the wall, there's only one way out of)
Oh, the Chemical War Brigade,

Three men tall, expecting it all
Oh, the Chemical War Brigade,
This is there for our future.

Oh, the Chemical War Brigade,
Three men tall, expecting it all
Oh, the Chemical War Brigade,
This is there for our future.

(Marc: Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide,
Backs on the wall, there's only one way out of)
Oh, the Chemical War Brigade,
Three men tall, expecting it all
Oh, the Chemical War Brigade,
This is there for our future.

Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide,
Backs on the wall, there's only one way out of
Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide,
Backs on the wall, there's only one way out of
Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide,
Backs on the wall, there's only one way out of
Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide,
Backs on the wall, there's only one way out of Here...

There's only one way out of here. There's only one way out of here.
