I never imagined that I'd use my talent like this.
I never imagined that freedom was something I'd miss.
But now that I'm on the run, if anything stands in my path,
I wouldn't hesitate, and you'll have to suffer my wrath.

Running down a narrow path, in the middle of the night.
I knew that the law was catching up, and that there
would be a fight.
Just as I thought there was no way out, a fork in the
path was in sight.
I had to run for my life.

I knew that something was wrong the second he walked through the door.
He said he wanted to run the second we picked up the score.
Given the circumstance I loaded my pistol and left.
The feds would put me away for more than a third-degree theft.

Running down a narrow path, in the middle of the night.
I knew that the law was catching up, and that there
would be a fight.
Just as I thought there was no way out, a fork in the
path was in sight.
I had to run for my life.

I believe it all started up in the mountains last year.
I had no problems but Amos expressed his fear.
All it would take was a trip to the city one night.
When horrors ensued, I couldn't endure the fight

Running down a narrow path, in the middle of the night.
I knew that the law was catching up, and that there
would be a fight.
Just as I thought there was no way out, a fork in the
path was in sight.
I had to run for my life. I had to run for my life.
