Through force of time a spell was raised

Earlier in sense of time
When buildings sang unspoken rhymes
And all who cared could stand so high
Had watched within a wandering eye

There came about a new idea
With lasers bold and banners sheer
It chanced among the countless wise
And tranced the Herculan prize

Once thwarted mists of Ice-9 Gold
Go drowning in the windless deep
And reaping wraths of dreams unsold
Make haunted ghosts of countless sheep

And waking warriors who once won
Now bow their heads to fire's heart
Their Dionysian prayers are stung
By battle freedom's perilous dart

Through force of time a spell was raised
Brought amidst the darkest night
Sentinals sent from sun soaked days
With shifting spirals shapes of light
