

The Dismemberment Plan

"Ellen And Ben"

Visit "Ellen And Ben" on MotoLyrics.com

Ellen and Ben They met at someone's house warming party They didn't like each other at first I was still there I heard them talking as they found their rain coats They made a date expecting the worst When Ellen got home she made a snack and went up on her rooftop and didnt think about Ben at all She stayed up for hours just watching all the drunk folks find their taxis 'cause all in all it was a good night Soco (southern comfort)in bed, a sunny sunday watching John McLaughlin And having sex again and again I'd stopped by cause Ellen had my copy of Nebraska They never even put on their clothes I hung for a while but everytime I tried to ask them something they started making out all again I thought it was rude I couldnt tell you why, why Ellen and Ben they may as well run off to Havana They simply disappeared for a year They'd show up at shows But less and less and saying

Visit The Dismemberment Plan page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.