Still Haunting

In forever I've promised...
That the stars have fallen down
That the lives of those who loved are gone

Forever I promised you
Forever I feel for you

Why are you still haunting?
When are you to love me?
When am I to kill me?

And I can feel the separation
As blood drips from her aggravation
What is more to say?
What is more to feel?
And I fear, and I fear...

Why are you still haunting?
When are you to love me?
When am I to kill me?

I promise I'll take the hurt for you
Forever feel the pain for you
What else can I say?
Forever has gone away,

Why are you still haunting?

When are you to love me?
When am I to kill me?

Every time death comes for me
What is there to say?
Death, take me away...
For I can't live another day
In you, I promised you
