So Jenny place your bets now
If you've got something
Your face says a full house
But I think you're bluffing
It's hard when you know how
To play this game with precision
I think I should go now
It doesn't look like I'm winning

And you starve me
Until I start to lose control
And I could finish my plate
But you're just serving me spoonfuls

So Jenny place your bets now
If you've got something
But don't hold your breath girl
Cause I've got a feeling
Because when I start losing
Is when I start cheating

And I work hard
To stay in this unending game
And when you finally show your cards
You'll be the only one who's playing

So Jenny place your bets now
If you feel something
Cause I'm on the bus downtown
And I can't feel nothing
