

The Professionals

"Elevators"

Visit "Elevators" on MotoLyrics.com

We're driving east and west
On this one lane highway
You give us hope
It has no place to call home
The collisions make an impact
To last a lifetime
In this high rise of faith
The elevators are falling down
Throw away the gifts
We pay for torment, we don't ask why
We just do as we're told
This lifestyle will keep us warm
In this high rise of faith
The elevators are falling down
Were do we resign?
Burn this contract down?
We'll never learn to fly
Stuck in your state of mind
We're all holding knives
In this cold, dark alley
Ready to draw the blood
Of anyone that touches us
The scares made a mark to last a lifetime
In this high rise of faith
The elevators are falling down

Visit The Professionals page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.