Everything will be alright when you touch the you in Christ
But just the smiles upon the dust, you provide the only cure
And memories from every time still won't
never find no reason why
No reason why

Who put you on the wall?
Who's the one who has to watch you fall?
Who put you on the pedestal?
Who's the one who wins out pass the fool?

And when she writes to you, desperation shot in through
Will you take the time to call her? Once again, she'll be the fool
Rack of soldiers fade away; your time has got to come
one day
One day

Who put you on the wall?
Who's the one who has to watch you fall?
Who put you on the pedestal?
Who's the one who wins out pass the fool?

And memories from every time still won't
never find no reason why
No reason why

Who put you on the wall?
Who's the one who has to watch you fall?
Who put you on the pedestal?
Who's the one who wins out pass the fool?
Who put you on the wall?
Who's the one who has to watch you fall?
Who put you on the pedestal?
Who's the one who wins out pass the fool?
